Optoma has expanded its range of in-ear headphones with its NuForce BE6 – a wireless model.

The BE6 “is the only Bluetooth® in-ear headphones to be fully crafted from aluminium”, and they feature Bluetooth with aptX® and AAC compatibility.

The BE6 earphones can play music and take phone calls continuously for up to six hours and are equipped with an in-line remote control that can skip tracks, engage Siri or Google Voice and activate the Bluetooth pairing mode. Each set of earphones is equipped with a carrying pouch,
